Test Case vs Test Scenario

Test Scenario

- A test scenario is a high level documentation of each requirement
- Relatively less time and resources are required for creating and testing using scenarios

No	Feature	Scenario
1	Sign Up	Verify user can successfully sign up with valid first name, username, password, and checked checkboxes

Test Case

- A test case contains defined test steps for testing a feature.
- These have steps, precondition, and expected Outcome
- More resources are required for documentation and execution of test cases

Example of test case

No	Feature	Scenario	Precondition	Steps	Expected Outcome
1	Sign Up	Verify user can successfully sign up with valid details	• User is in the Sign up page	1. Fill First name with valid value 2. Fill Username with valid value 3. Fill Password with valid value 4. Check terms and agreements checkbox 5. Click Sign up	• Ensure registration success page is loaded • Ensure email verification is sent to the registered email